November 2026

What are you grateful for? We encourage gratitude quite a lot at Corinth, and for good reasons! Scientifically, being grateful will boost your mood and reduce anxiety. It can improve your sleep quality or help you see the people in your life in a better light. But there is another reason. In a recent message Adam ended with a bottom line that said, “Gratitude produces faithfulness.”

Sometimes it’s not just what you are grateful for, but who. Paul listed 26 different people in a list in Romans 16. Men and women who helped moved the gospel forward. People who made ministry possible. People who encouraged him, risked their lives for him, and took care of him. Who would be on your list? Who are you grateful for? Who has made you more faithful? And whose list are you on? Who is grateful for you? If you are reading this now, stop for 60 seconds. Name 5 people for whom you are grateful. Then if you have time (you do!) send them a quick note of thanks. It will be good for them AND you!

Almost a year ago, we began Immeasurably More with a simple conviction: God was inviting us to take a step of faith together.

From the beginning, this has been about more than a building or a financial goal. We said our primary goal was 100% engagement because we believed God wanted to do something in us as He worked through us. We wanted every person who calls Corinth home to listen for His voice and respond with faith.

Now, as we approach the midpoint of this two-year journey, it’s worth stopping to look around. God has been faithful. We’ve watched people meet Jesus and step into the waters of baptism. We’ve seen kids and students grow in their faith. We’ve served our community and invested in ministry around the world. New people have continued to walk through our doors, and week after week, you have prayed, served, invited, and given generously.

There is a lot to celebrate. And there is still a lot ahead of us.

This midpoint is an opportunity to look back with gratitude, look ahead with faith, and ask again what God is inviting each of us to do. For some of us, that means continuing the commitment we made last year. For others, God may be inviting another step. And for those who have become part of Corinth since we began, this may be your first opportunity to join us.

Wherever you find yourself, our prayer is that we would keep listening and keep responding. We don’t want to miss what God wants to do in us and through us. God has already done more than we could have imagined. And we believe He’s not finished yet -- the best is yet to be!

CORINTH KIDS

Throughout November, our CorinthKids will continue exploring the stories of Israel's judges, kings, and prophets as they discover what it means to follow the one true God. Through these stories, they'll learn that God keeps His promises, is always in control, and is always with us.

Pastoral Care at Corinth
Galatians 6:2 says, "Carry each other's burdens, and in this way you will fulfill the law of Christ." That's part of what it means to be a church.
Whatever you're carrying — a diagnosis, an upcoming procedure, a loss, or just a season that's heavy — let us know.
Contact the church office at 770-466-4373 or info@corinthchristian.org. We will pass along your prayer need to our pastoral care team for follow up.
Interested in serving on the pastoral care team? Contact Josh Moore (josh@corinth.cc) to learn more.

THANK YOU!

Dear Corinth Family,
Thank you so much for all the kind words, notes and gifts for Pastor Appreciation month! We're grateful to call Corinth home and so blessed to serve with such a loving church family. Blessings!
Jeremi, Jenni, Ellie, Hudson and Everly

October rolls around every year and that's when so many of you begin sliding cards under my door, into my mailbox, or into my hands... And every year, my gratitude grows. Corinth is a special place to pastor because it's full of the types of people who are all-in for Jesus. Truth is... I appreciate you more than you do me! Nonetheless, thank you for the kind words, gift cards, and encouragement so many of you have provided this month.
Luke, Tristan, and Ethan

Thank you all for your kind words and thoughtful gifts. Most importantly, thank you for making Corinth feel like home!
Macy

Thank you for the cards, gifts and notes of encouragement during the past month of October! They were so special! The Moore family feels very loved!

To Our Corinth Family,
As we look back over the past year, we can see just how many times God has blessed us over and over again. And He doesn't always do it in big, extraordinary ways. More often, it's in the ordinary, everyday moments.
Getting to see you each week, share our lives with you, and watch how the Lord is working in your lives…that's the blessing for us. Seeing how Jesus is changing lives in our church and throughout our community is something we never want to take for granted.
Thank you for the outpouring of love and support this past month. The prayers, cards, gifts, and kind words have meant so much to us. But truly, those are just an added bonus to the blessing of getting to do life with you. Thank you for loving our family so well.
Blessings on your heads,
Adam and Jennifer
