God's Bigger Plan Romans 9-11

Paul just spent eight chapters explaining the gospel. Then he stops and grieves.

His own people, the ones who waited centuries for the Messiah, missed Him when He showed up. Romans 9-11 is Paul wrestling with that heartbreak out loud, and it raises questions you may be afraid to ask.

Why does God choose who He chooses? Does heritage save you? What happens when the people who should know God best walk right past Him?

Starting June 28th, we're spending three weeks in the most difficult part of Paul's letter.

We'll talk about what it means that salvation was never about a name on a family tree. We'll talk about why Paul couldn't stop praying for people who'd rejected the very gospel he was dying to spread. And we'll land on this: God's plan has always been bigger than one nation, one bloodline, one church.

It's a plan that includes you. It's also a plan that needs you. Here's what Paul makes clear by the end of chapter 11: God doesn't save people in isolation. He saves people into a mission. You can't make someone believe. But you can be the person who shows up, speaks up, and lives like the gospel is actually true.

Join us starting June 28th as we walk through Romans 9-11 and ask what it looks like to be part of a church that takes God's reach to the whole world personally.

MEET MACY MCMILLAN!

Born in Mississippi and most recently a resident of Kentucky while she attended Grad School, Macy is on her way to making a new home here in Georgia! She has an undergraduate from the University of Mississippi, as well as a graduate from Western Kentucky University!

As a competitor at heart, Macy loves to play any and all games. For sports, she enjoys basketball and pickleball, and for board games, she uses her best sleuthing skills to win at a game of Clue. Aside from the competition, Macy loves to spend time with friends and family. In her eyes, quality time is the best gift of all.

A few fun facts to get to know Macy:

1) The Lord began molding Macy's heart after serving at a Christian summer camp for 2nd-6th graders for five summers, faithfully leading her down the road that would bring her to Corinth!

2) She loves to talk about Corvettes. When in grad school, Macy began working at the National Corvette Museum giving tours. As a part of the job, Macy even got to drive a Corvette occasionally (just don't ask her how fast she went).

3) If she could vacation anywhere in the world, at any time she wanted, she would choose Walt Disney World every time.

Macy says she has been overwhelmed over the past month and a half with the love, kindness, and support that has been extended to her since she stepped foot on the church's campus. She says it is evident that God has called her here and is excited to continue meeting people, building community, and leading the Elementary Ministry in a way that glorifies God.

What's Going On...

Personal connection comes through honesty. The psalmists understood this better than anyone. From the pages of the Psalms leap lament and joy, anger and mercy—honest cries to the God who hears us and knows us. During this series, you and the kids you lead will discover more from the Psalms about the unchanging character of God—the loving, caring, faithful shepherd—and your identity as His kids, wonderfully and purposefully created. Together you'll come to God like the psalmists of old with singing, shouting, and crying out your prayers and praises to the One who is worthy!

By the time you read this, Creative Arts Academy will have trained more than 70 middle and high school students to help prepare and lead a Sunday morning worship experience. These students are serving in everything from set design, communion meditations, music, vocals, video production, illustration, photography, and even cooking. On July 26, they'll help lead our worship services, so would you begin praying for them now? Pray that God would use their gifts, grow their faith, and be glorified through everything they do. Why do we invest in something like Creative Arts Academy at Corinth? Because the next generation matters. Titus 2 reminds us that discipleship is always meant to flow from one generation to the next: "These older women must train the younger women... In the same way, encourage the young men to live wisely... And you yourself must be an example to them by doing good works of every kind." This is God's plan for His Church: older believers investing in younger believers. Disciples making disciples. That's exactly what is happening through Creative Arts Academy. But it shouldn't stop there. Who are you investing in? Who is learning to follow Jesus because you're helping them take their next step? Take a moment and think of a name. Pray for that person right now. Then reach out. Make the call. Send the text. Invite them to coffee. Someone helped you grow in your faith. Now it's your turn to do the same for someone else.

THANK YOU!

Corinth Family,

We will never be able to express our love and appreciation for you. You showed up for us in a big way while we were dealing with and recovering from our individual health issues. For every thought, prayer text, card, call, visit, sweet words, and meals—we are truly grateful!

Love you all!
